

An AI that answers your phone when you can't

Every missed call is a job that went to someone else.

A plumber under a sink. A store on erev Shabbos. A contractor on a roof. An AI receptionist picks up every call, day or night, answers from your own info, takes the details or books the job, and sends you a summary.

WHAT IT COSTS

Smith.ai

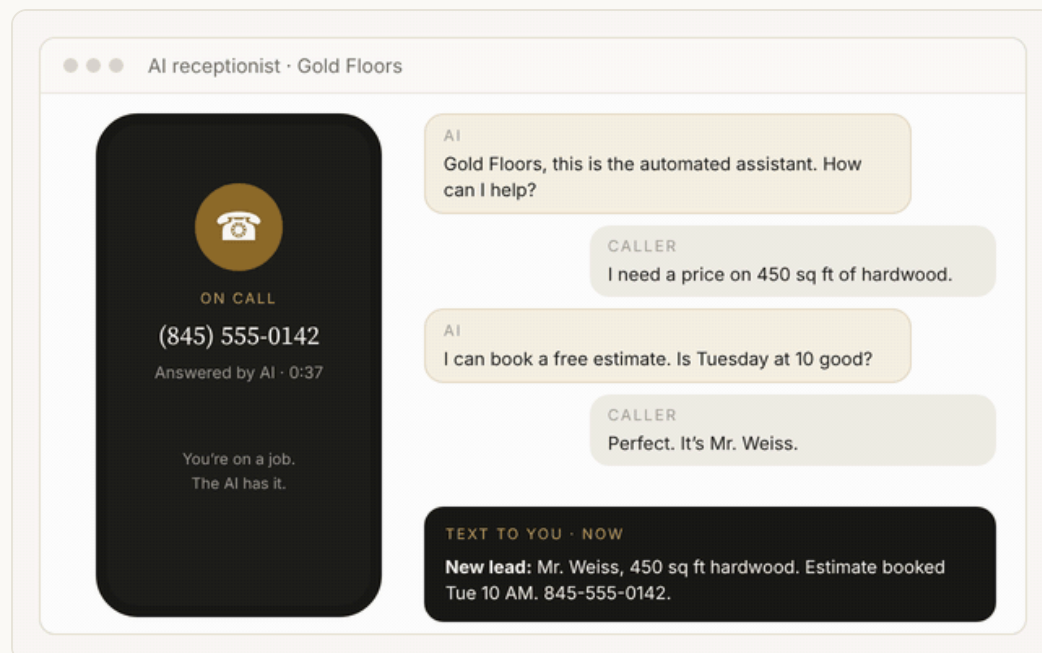

Free: 25 calls a month

Then $3 a call. Records every call and writes a summary.

Goodcall

$79 a month

About 150 calls. One flat price, no per-minute charges.

The call gets answered. You get the notes.

HOW TO DO IT TODAY

4 steps on Smith.ai's free plan

1 Go to smith.ai

Open the AI Receptionist page and click Start free.

2 Teach it your business

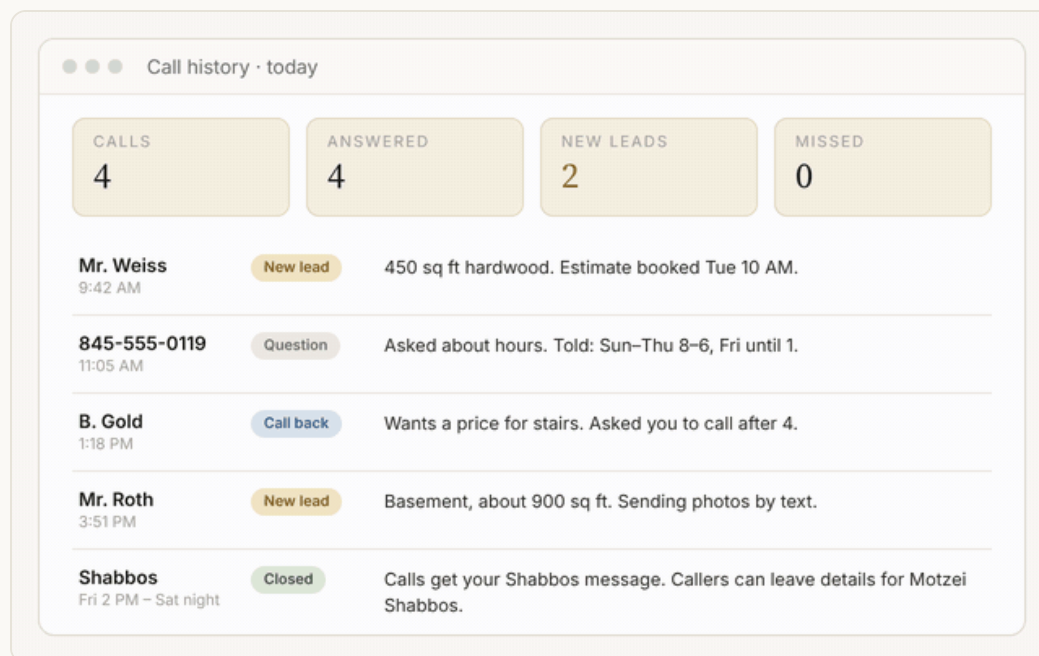

Hours, services, prices, the area you cover, and what it should never promise. Already made your `business.md` from AI Daily #1? Paste it in.

3 Test it before anyone else does

Use Quality Studio and call it yourself three times. Ask the hard questions your customers ask.

4 Send it your missed calls

Set your phone to forward calls you don't answer. Smith.ai has a short guide for each phone company. Start with nights and busy times.

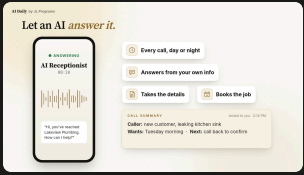

Every call, written up and waiting for you.

Add Shabbos and Yom Tov hours. Have it take a message instead of guessing a price. And have it say clearly that it's an automated assistant.

Tomorrow: a quote that writes itself the moment a customer asks.

Talk soon,

Joel

Let an AI answer it.
